

Equal rights without discrimination

By Michael Zwart, MCM
Dutch National Police
Unit Amsterdam

How?

It started as a pilot in Amsterdam in 2013

With approval of the State Secretary of the Department of Justice F. Teeven.

Not everyone was convinced

Legal basis of this pilot

1. European Convention on human rights

Everyone has the right to liberty and security of person (art. 5)

2. Constitutional law art. 1 of The Netherlands

Everyone who is present on Dutch territory, will be treated equally.
Discrimination is forbidden

3. Police Law of The Netherlands

The task of the police is to maintain law and order and to assist people who need help (art. 3)

Why?

1. No distinction between documented and undocumented persons
2. Group undocumented persons are a reality; they are part of the (economic) system
3. Vulnerable for criminality more than documented
4. Used to a different police in their home-country
5. Afraid to contact the police; fear for deportation
6. Contact strengthens our information-position
Intell position was poor

Reporting a crime without worries

I am a victim or witness of a crime and I wish to file report. I am an illegal alien and therefore I cannot identify myself. I have the right to be protected by the police. I can leave the police station whenever I want to without being arrested. I can only be arrested when I am a suspect of a criminal act or convicted for a criminal act.

Please guide me to the responsible officer.

'Free in free out'

Key figures

Results

1. More people came forward
2. Trust migrants vs police increased
3. Police is not hunting on 'bold' Illegals, but only on those who commit crimes

Shifting from pilot to policy

2015, EU Guidelines for victims implemented in the Dutch police.
